Proposal to Lend Allies Half
the Original Sum Meets With Some Consideration
—Tonic Effect of Negotiations Upon Price of English Pound and Other Foreign Money.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
New York, Sept. 17.—Another secret meeting, the third within three days was held today between members of the Anglo-French financial commission and representatives of big New York, Chicago, Boston, and other out-of-town houses who are endeavoring to reach an agreement
on the proposed mammoth credit loan to Great Britain and France.
Opponents of the loan carried their campaign into Wall Street today and announced their sentiment from flaming placards in front of the office of J. P. Morgan and company.

"Wall Street's shame," read one of several large signboards held aloft
by leaders of a file of men who marched through the financial section as a protest against establishing the loan. Another read: "The money trust is lending billions of American money to bankrupt England, France, and Russia."

The procession ended with a man carrying a big sign on which was painted in red, white and black:
"Billions for King George."
The paraders stopped in front of the Morgan offices. A crowd collected and detectives ordered them to move on.

The proposal, said to have been made by American bankers, that the commission would be given a loan of half the sum originally asked, was widely credited today. The commission let it be known soon after its arrival here that it was seeking a billion dollars. Five hundred million, it is said, have been promised.

This proposal has not appeared to be altogether acceptable to the commission and it is believed the sum will be increased by $100,000,000 or possibly to $750,000,000 before negotiations end. Whether the big credit should be used to pay for shipments of war munitions as well as wheat, cotton and other commodities
has been the subject of much discussion among the conferees.

Increasing willingness on the part of certain so-called pro-German financial institutions here to participate, was manifest today. Many of these banking houses it was said, if invited, would subscribe large sums to a credit loan which would operate toward continuance of the present prosperity enjoyed by American exporters.

The presence of the commission
here and the publicity given their negotiations had a tonic effect on the foreign exchange market. Sterling was up today to $4.70 3/4 more than twenty cents above its low level of three weeks ago and other foreign money values were correspondingly strengthened.

NAMES SIGNED
TO REFERENDUM THROWN AWAY

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 17.—With the consent of all parties concerned, 445
names on petitions asking for a referendum on the McDermott liquor license law, were ordered thrown out by Judge Max B. May, in the common pleas court here today. These were the names that had been disputed when the petitions were ordered back to the local board of elections for investigation. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Simon Ross, stated after this action by the court
had been taken that he would continue his investigation of charges of fraud and forgery, and if any were found he would report the matter to the grand jury.

J. W. Hildreth, arrested Thursday evening at the carnival grounds, will get a hearing late this afternoon before Mayor R. C. Bigbee on a charge of assault preferred by Lester Grove.
Grove has been operating a refreshment stand near the carnival and it is claimed that in an altercation, Hildreth struck him.

GERMANS AFRAID TO SHOOT THIS AT NANCY

German 42 Centimetre Shell

Herbert Corey, the famous war correspondent, who has been with the French army at the front, has written that the Germans have their 42 centimetre guns planted so near Nancy in France that they could drop 42 centimetre shells into the city, and perhaps destroy it. These are the shells which would tear the place to bits and ruin one of the beautiful cities of France. But the Germans fear to try. French guns are trained on Metz, a larger city.

Mr. Corey saw a number of these already set up and aimed at Metz ready to fire the moment the Germans dropped one of their shells in the French city.

Reunion of 76th Regiment Held Today In Connection With Comrades of the 30th

The old veterans of the 76th and 30th regiments, O. V. L., who are meeting in annual reunion today were greeted with pleasant weather this morning when they began assembling at the Memorial Hall where the joint reunion is being held.

The early morning trains and in-terurbans carried quite a number of the veterans from out of town, and they were greeted with old glory floating to the breeze from many business places and private homes.
Soon little groups of the old boys who fought to save the union back in
'61-'65, could be seen congregating
and greeting one another with a hearty hand clasp. The ranks of the veterans are fast thinning out and it will be but a few years more until the annual reunion are a thing of the past. As a consequence great interest is being taken in them at the present time and many of the comrades come with their families and friends to attend the annual gatherings. Today nearly a hundred visitors registered, members of other regiments who also wished to participate in the good times and in the camp fires this afternoon and evening.

The boys of the 76th were called to order by President Marion Chrisman
at 9 o'clock and after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting a roll
call of the honored dead occurred.

Comrade Davis introduced President O. E. Hunt of the 30th regimental association and that gentleman, who resides in this city, welcomed the old boys in blue.

Reading of communications from absent comrades was next in order
and that was followed by the report of the treasurer, after which the election of officers for the ensuing year took place, resulting in a re-election of all the old officers as follows:

President, Marion Chrisman.
Vice president, David Davies.
Treasurer, Capt. John Hiser.
Secretary, Johnson Haughey.
The old boys of the 30th regiment were only a few in number but they made up in enthusiasm. They met in a room adjoining the G. A. R. hall and held their business session, afterwards electing the following officers
to serve for the ensuing year:

President, O. E. Hunt, Newark.
Vice president, D. Cunningham, Cadiz, O.
Secretary, Lyman Hardman, New Philadelphia, O.
The 30th regiment was mustered into service at Camp Chase and was recruited in the counties of Guernsey, Tuscarawas, Perry, Belmont, Franklin and Coshocton. There were no Licking county men in the organization. The regiment traveled 13, 200 miles during the war and participated in many of the bloodiest battles. There is only a remnant of the former strength of the regiment

left, many of the brave boys falling in battle. The regiment was at Antietam and took part in that memorable engagement, today being the anniversary of the battle.

The late Col. Hug, Bowling of Lancaster was a member of the regiment,
was also brigadier general and later was brevetted a major general. His widow resides in this city and will probably be present at the camp fire

Stefansson, Intrepid Arctic Explorer, Not Only Alive and Well, But Is Now Preparing to Push Farther Northward

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 17.—Vilhjalmar Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, who was believed lost in the Arctic not only is alive and well,
but has discovered a new land in the north and accomplished practically every purpose for which his hazardous journey was undertaken, according to word brought here by the power schooner Ruby, which arrived from Herschel Island, Stefansson
with two companions, Storker Storkerson, and Ole Anderson, set out from Martin Point, Alaska, March 22, 1914, over the frozen polar ocean to search for supposed new lands in the Beaufort sea.

Captain S. F. Cottle, master of the Ruby, says that Stefansson is now on Banks Island, east of the Mackenzie, outfitting for continuance of the exploration to the westward to ascertain the full extent of the new land
he has discovered southwest of Prince Patrick's land. Stefansson discovered a continuance of the continental shelf several degrees west of Banks land and even determined its southern limits, but was unable to continue his explorations to the north and west.

Stefansson told Captain Cottle
that after leaving the supporting party in ice north of Martin Point,
he and his companions set their faces to the north but, after continuing their journey ninety days they decided to return to land. They turned back and landed on the mainland at a point near which the power boat Mary Sachs, of the Stefansson expedition was wintering.

VILHJALMAR STEFANSSON.

Noted Arctic Explorer Reported Alive
and Proceeding Northward.

Stefansson owing to scarcity of provisions was compelled to set out on the journey to land. The men had been on the ice for nearly seven months. The return to shore was accomplished with great difficulty.
The men subsisted on the most meagre rations and the dogs were almost famished. Finally the party arrived at Banks land.

Stefansson and his party made their way from Banks land to Ballie Island, where Captain Louis Lane, cruising in his power schooner Polar Bear, found Stefansson and his companions. Stefansson immediately chartered the Polar Bear and with Captain Lane proceeded northward at once in the hope of making further discoveries while the sea was open and free of ice. The season was too far advanced however, and the explorers reluctantly steered for Herschel Island.

Immediately upon arriving at Herschel Island, Stefansson began preparations for continuance of his explorations. He purchased the Polar Bear and the power boat Gladiator,
a small vessel engaged in trading along the coast. After fully equipping these vessels Stefansson sailed with them for Banks land, where he probably is now.

It is the intention of Stefansson to

London, Sept. 17.—Petrograd admits the Russians are falling back in the direction of Pinsk, capture of which was announced yesterday by the Germans. Occupation by the invaders of this town may be expected to facilitate greatly the progress of Field Marshal von Mackensen's
forces through the Pripiet marshes.

Owing to the prostration of the Duma, domestic affairs are occupying the attention of the Russians.
The effect of this incident on the military situation is feared as is indicated by the proclamation of Gen.
Ruzsky, Russian commander in the north, calling upon workmen not to slacken their efforts to keep the army supplied with munitions.

Although no official reports have been received recently from British or French sources, severe fighting seems to be underway again on the Gallipoli front. The Turks, according to their reports, have made several successful attacks in the region of Anafarta. Athens and Rome continue to send out reports that the defensive power of the Turks is weakening but no confirmation of the news has been received. Dispatches from Greece express strong belief that Turkey and Bulgaria have definitely reached an agreement, but in the near east it is not believed this will lead to actual participation in the war by Bulgaria on the side of the central powers. Nor is an immediate offensive by Austro-German forces expected against Serbia.

Artillery combats continue on the western front. The German reply to

DIPLOMATIC CONTEST
LOST BY THE ALLIES
FOR BULGARIA'S AID.

Bucharest, Rumania, Sept. 16.— (Via Berlin and London, Sept. 17.)
—The allies know that in no case
may they count on Bulgaria's help in the Gallipoli peninsula," says the semi-official independence Romaine
in an article dealing with the Turco-Bulgarian agreement. They have lost that part of their diplomatic contest in the Balkans. It remains to be seen how the other part will come out.

King Ferdinand will leave tomorrow for a week's vacation on the Danube. This fact completely disposes of reports concerning the activities of Rumanian troops on the frontier, which in reality are nothing more than the annual maneuvers.

JOSEPH B. FORAKER

Senator Joseph B. Foraker Is To Undergo Serious Operation; Statesman's Health Shattered

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 17.—Greatly weakened by overwork and the suffering from an old prostatic malady,
former United States Senator Joseph Benson Foraker is to be operated on at Christ hospital, today, the distinguished statesman was able to sit up, but according to his physician, Dr. Gordon F. McKim, he was in no condition to withstand an operation. Without the surgical treatment, the physician announces, Mr.

Foraker cannot hope for complete recovery. The former senator's condition, is aggravated badly, the physician states, by physical fatigue caused by overwork. The time for the operation has been set several times, but on each occasion it was found that Mr. Foraker was not strong enough. The attempt may be made in a couple weeks again. The patient is optimistic and feels hopeful of quick improvement and recovery.

PRESIDENT IN A CONFERENCE WITH LANSING

ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
BEFORE LATTER LEAVES FOR A VACATION.

Note to Great Britain on Interference With American Trade Has Been Completed.

Washington, Sept. 17.—President Wilson and Secretary Lansing had a general conference on international affairs today just before the secre-
pressing developments in any of the situations confronting the United States are expected before Mr. Lansing's return.

Mr. Lansing announced that the new note to Great Britain on interference with American trade had been completed. Its dispatch had been delayed not only on account of a desire to gather complete information but because the United States

was unwilling while the negotiations with Germany were at a critical point, to be placed in the position of being forced to protest to Great Britain in order to obtain acquiescence by Germany in the viewpoint of the United States on the submarine question.

It is not believed that the note will go until some definite word is received from Berlin on Germany's position in the submarine cases.
One of the most interesting features of the note is said to be the American government's vigorous objection to the British government's attitude that the burden of proof rests upon the owners or shippers of cargoes, the United States holding that it is the duty of the British government to prove the guilt of the shippers.

The president conferred with Secretary Lansing on Mexican affairs.
The views of the Pan-American conferences on the Mexican affairs will be sought tomorrow at the meeting in New York before decision is made as to future steps.

Prospects for the recognition of Carranza are at present more favorable chiefly because of his military advances.

NINETY GROUND TO PIECES IN TRAIN WRECK

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 17.—The wreck of a Mexican military train resulting in the death of ninety persons occurred Wednesday afternoon
one mile out of Saltillo, according to advices received here today.

The train was enroute from Saltillo to Monterey with a large number of troops. Spreading rails caused it to leave the tracks at a point near the canyon, precipitating two coaches with their occupants to the rocks below.

Soldiers, women camp-followers
and children were ground to death in the debris. Passengers who arrived today and who passed the scene of the wreck said they saw a pile of bodies gathered together preparatory to burial in deep trenches. All the dead and injured were Mexicans.

The train was the property of the Carranza army and the soldiers members of the Carranza garrison of Saltillo being transferred to Monterey to reinforce the garrison there.

CONTROL

Of Appointment of Civil Service Employees in The Hands of Willis

BY OPINION OF ATTOR-NEY GENERAL

Unless Approved By Governor, State Auditor

WILL NOT PAY SALARIES

Another Opinion Awaited
Before Provisional Appointees Will Be Paid—Labor Representatives Protest Appointment of New State Examiner of Steam Engineers.

Columbus, Sept. 17.—State officials pointed out here today that under an opinion of Attorney General Turner which State Auditor Donahay will follow, Gov. Willis will have complete control over the appointment of civil service employes,
as well as other employes in eight important state departments. This control, they said comes from a provision of the law whereby the governor is given the power to approve appointees and their salaries.

The attorney general holds in an opinion rendered today, that since under the new civil service law, all employes who took a non-competitive examination to retain the positions they now hold must be re-appointed in order to continue in their present positions, their reappointments, must be approved by the governor. Auditor Donahay today wrote to Governor Willis and the heads of eight state departments whose appointments must receive the executive's sanction, advising them that he will not approve further payrolls
unless the governor or somebody duly authorized by him shall approve each and every appointee.

Auditor Donahay was today awaiting another opinion from Attorney General Turner before deciding whether to change his declared intention of refusing to issue warrants
for the salaries of provisional appointees. The auditor holds that the first opinion of Mr. Turner on this point was not clear and decisive.
Tentatively therefore he has decided to issue no warrants in cases where more than one person lay claim to the salary of a given position.

Representatives of labor here are planning to call on Gov. Willis and protest against the appointment of J. C. Callery of Hamilton, as chief examiner of steam engineers, under the state industrial commission to succeed Otto M. Enzlemann of Cincinnati. They said today they would ask that Enzlemann be reinstated and call attention to the fact that the position heretofore has been held by a union man. Callery, they declared, is not a member of organized labor.

Governor Willis made it clear to a delegation of members of the National association of stationary engineers who called at his office today to protest against the appointment of J. C.
Callery of Hamilton, to succeed Otto M. Enzlemann, of Cincinnati, as chief examiner of steam engineers, that Callery's appointment would be withdrawn and that some other person would be given the place who would be acceptable to the engineers.

The governor was told that Callery was unfriendly to labor, that his qualifications as an engineer would not appeal to the engineering profession and that he is not employed as an engineer, but is filling a traveling position.

The governor asked them to put their charges in writing and he promised that they would be given prompt attention.

GERMAN PROMISE TO BULGARIA OF MORE TERRITORY

Turin, via Paris, Sept. 17.—The Stampa says it has learned from a diplomatic source that Germany has made extensive promises to Bulgaria to obtain that nation's neutrality. It states that these promises were made to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria by the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg on behalf of Emperor William and that among them was the stipulation that King Ferdinand should have the crown of Byzantium.

This dispatch which lacks authoritative confirmation would indicate on its face a promise to Bulgaria
of a radical extension of its boundaries. The ancient Byzantine empire included all the territory now held by the various Balkan nations and European Turkey.

WERE TENDERED A SERENADE BY BUCKEYE BAND

The Buckeye Band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nutter at their home in Wallace street last evening in honor of their recent marriage. Mr. Nutter being a member of that organization. After several selections had been rendered, Mr. Roy Shiner on behalf of the band boys, presented the newlyweds with a handsome leather upholstered rocking chair. Mr. Nutter responded, thanking the donors for the beautiful present.

A social time was then enjoyed and a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Nutter. Later she sang "The Rosary," accompanied by the band, and Mr. Frank Strear sang a number of popular selections. The band then rendered a number of pieces and short congratulatory remarks were made by quite a few of the band boys. Auld Lang Syne was played and all took their leave of the young married couple after having had a delightful time.

LAST OUTING OF THE SEASON FOR ELK LODGE

The last stag outing of the season for Elks was held yesterday at Beach Island and a big chicken dinner prepared by Caterer William Gray was enjoyed by about 150 members of the order. An excellent time was had by all. It was also the last call for straw hats and all who wore them to the outing returned minus the headgear or else wearing only the rim or crown. Water sports and contests of a varied nature were indulged in and all present had a very enjoyable day.

You can get from us, without charge, a copy of a booklet giving directions for testing the primer speed, penetration, velocity, distribution and water-proofing of shotgun shells. What reports we have had from local tests indicate the superiority of The Black Shells, made by the United States Cartridge Company. The tests are interesting and simple. Call and get a booklet telling how. The tests take only a few minutes' time, but are decidedly worth while.

"KEWPIE," THE NEW BANTAM CHAMPION.

Johnny Ertle

Kid Williams, the young hurricane from Baltimore, staked his title in a ten round bout with "Kewpie" Johnny Ertle in St. Paul Friday night, Sept. 10, and lost it within five rounds. So now an eighteen-year old boy takes his place. A lot of alleged boxing experts—the same kind of experts who said Packey McFarland won in his ridiculous match with Mike Gibbons—experts who never even read the boxing rules, have insisted Ertle did not win fairly because he won on a foul.

In the fourth round Williams struck Ertle low and was warned by the referee, George Barton. In the fifth he fouled again and the courageous referee, who was not daunted by the glitter of the champion's crown, disqualified him and passed the crown on to the victor.

Johnny is eighteen years old and is just four feet eleven inches tall. He weighed 114 pounds for the Williams match, which is a pound or two more than his natural fighting weight, as he fought the majority of his bouts at from 110 to 112 pounds. Despite his light weight Ertle is powerfully built.

PROGRAM GIVEN FOR DEDICATION HEBRON TEMPLE

Hebron, Ohio, Sept. 17. — Great preparations are now being made for the dedication of the new Masonic temple, which will be Tuesday, Sept. 21. A good dinner will be served at the dining room of the temple for 35c.

The following is the program for the day:

9:00 a. m. to 11 a. m. — Receiving and Registering Visiting Delegations.

11:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. — Refreshments.

1:30 p. m. — Formation of Parade.

2:30 p. m. — Escort Grand Lodge to New Temple in Procession by the Subordinate Lodges and Knight Templars.

3:00 p. m. — Dedication of Temple.

Band concert will be given from 10:00 to 11:00 a. m. and during the evening by the Armory Band, Seventh Infantry of Zanesville, Ohio.

T. M. WHITE,
Grand Marshal.

FOUR DAYS TO REGISTER FOR ELECTION NOV. 2

Voters who must register and those who must secure transfers, will have opportunity to attend to the matter on four different days in September and October, according to registration dates announced today by the election board. The dates are September 20, October 7, October 15 and October 16. The hours as usual, will be from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m., and from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Voters who must register are those who have moved into the city since last election day and those who have or will become 21 years old before November 2. Those who must secure transfers are voters who have removed since the last election and have not already secured transfers.

Next year will be general registration year when every one must register anew. This occurs every four years.

FLOWERS THROWN AT GROVER ALEXANDER

"There never was a pitcher who was a better loser than Alexander," is the bouquet that Pat Moran heaves at the pitching star of the Phillies. "Alexander is the most popular man on the team, not merely because he is a great pitcher, but because he has a wonderful character—because he's a man clear through."

Variety By PHILANDER JOHNSON (in the Washington Star.)

THE old home sometimes gets a trifle dreary
And you wander to the mountains
Or the sea,
And there you find, with feelings
rather weary,
That things are largely as they used to be.
The same old bus arrives with bump
and rattles,
The same mosquitoes make you holler 'till you're
You find the same old weeds, the same old cattle,
The same old boarders with the same old grout.
It isn't very long till you are yearning
For the city you were glad to leave behind.
Your heart grows light to think of a returning
To scenes that once disturbed your peace of mind.
You long to greet the same old glare
and flurry
And hear the same old tunes ground
out so loud,
And take the same old street car in a hurry
And jostle onward with the same old crowd.

he's going to lose his grip every time he checks his baggage."

The Aristocracy of "Bull" Durham Hand-made Cigarettes

You find them at every rendezvous of men of wealth and refinement—at the fashionable beaches, town and country clubs. Those deliciously mild, fragrant, fresh-rolled "Bull" Durham cigarettes—as intimately suited to the taste and expressive of the personality of the smoker as the fashionable fit of his attire, the equipage of his yacht.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

"Bull" Durham hand-made cigarettes have an irresistible attraction for the experienced smoker, because of their wonderful, unique fragrance, their inimitable savory mildness, found in no other cigarettes and in no other tobacco. When you "roll your own" with world-famous, mellow "Bull" Durham, you experience a distinctive form of tobacco enjoyment, supremely mild and satisfying.

FREE An illustrated booklet, showing correct way to "Roll Your Own" Cigarettes, and a Package of cigarette papers, will both be mailed, free, to any address in U.S. on postal request. Address "Bull" Durham, Durham, N.C.

IN ADVANCE OF RINGLING SHOW THROUGH SOUTH

Matt Smith of this city, traveling with advance car No. 1 of the Ringling Brothers circus, writes, "Friends from Galveston, Texas, that he has viewed the damage done by the recent flood and that it is something terrible. Mr. Smith states that they only lost one performance in the south on account of rains. In Kansas it rained continually and at Dola, that state, the rain flooded the town so that he was compelled to remain for three days before he could get out on the railroad. Good weather prevailed in Oklahoma and at one place they played a town of 800 souls, people coming from miles around to see the big exhibition. Mat had his picture taken with the press agent, Jim Donaldson, formerly press agent with the Al Fields minstrel, and forwarded several to friends in this city."

WILLIAM SETS A NEW RECORD IN WAGON PACE

Syracuse, Sept. 17. — William, world's champion 5-year-old pacing stallion, created a sensation at the Grand Circuit meeting yesterday by pacing a mile to wagon in 1:59 1-2, breaking the world's record by nearly two seconds. The former record was 2:01 1-4, held by Little Boy.

William was driven by his owner, C. K. G. Billings of New York. Track and weather conditions were ideal. Getting away to a splendid start, the big pacer never faltered and finished easily.

The performance of William was the climax of a six race program, during which many surprises were recorded. St. Frisco started the surprises in the Syracuse stake for 2:20 trotters by winning it in straight heats over four other starters.

Jones Gentry piloted by Ostrander, was next to furnish an upset. In the 2:06 pace the bay gelding completely outpaced the field, winning in straight heats.

The Governor's Stake for 2:08 class trotters, which was won by Lee Asworthy, provided a thrilling contest. Bonington challenged in both the first and second heats, but could not finish better than second. In the third, however, Geers pulled the big chestnut stallion close to the pole in the stretch and won going away.

In the amateur wagon race for 2:15 trotters Baron Frisco, owned and driven by Harry Briggs of Brockton, Mass., finished first in straight heats.

The final heat of the 2:03 pace, unfinished from Wednesday was won by Russian police at Waukegan, Ill., and Earl Jr., close contenders.

SEEING SIGHTS AT EXPOSITIONS IN CALIFORNIA

Walter Kinney, one of the well known electricians at the Grand theatre, is spending a couple of weeks at the big exposition in California and states that it is well worth while. He has taken in all the principle attractions, gone down under the sea and expects to make an aeroplane flight before returning to his home in this city. Mr. Kinney was entertained at the Ohio building in company with a number of people from this state, was a guest at a stag smoker of the Elk club, in fact every minute since he arrived in San Francisco has been a busy one.

ANOTHER RECORD IS SHATTERED AT LOUISVILLE FAIR

Louisville, Sept. 17.—Suldlene, a bay colt, owned and driven by H. C. Moody of Lexington, Ky., was sent against the record of 2:18 1/2 for 2-year-old trotting colts on a half-mile track at the state fair yesterday and clipped five seconds from the record. This time also beat the record by fillies by 3 1/2 seconds. Suldlene is by Worthy McKinney. Verbaena, a brown filly driven by Moody, beat his own record of 2:28 far yearling trotting fillies on a half-mile track, stepping a mile in 2:26. The three races on the program were rather ordinary events, with the exception of the 2-year-old trotting stake, which resulted in a victory for Harrods Creek after three spirited drives with Good Gracious.

NEW RECORD IS HUNG UP BY NEWARK HORSE

Sandusky, Sept. 16.—A new track record was made in the free-for-all pace at the Erie County fair race today when Van Buren, a Newark horse, driven by Nels Vanatta, traveled the two last heats in 2:09 1/4. The race was marked by a dispute when Al Wilkes, finishing first, was set back by the judges for foul driving. Driver Heffner then filed a protest on the grounds that wrong time was hung up on the heat. The judges will give their decision today. Vanatta also drove Cuban Burns to second money in the 2:25 pace and Barthmark in the 2:17 pace.

Having sent Duke Nicholas to the Caucasus, the czar seems to endorse the theory that you can make a losing team come back by changing the batting order.

Formerly the political candidates used to discuss the issues of the day. Now they hold picnics, barbecues, clam-bakes, etc., and discuss open air roasts.

It is surprising how philosophical a motorist becomes about the sufferings of people who have been run over, when he is well protected by liability insurance.

Many pictures are printed showing the attitudes of baseball pitchers, but the positions of those who merely pitch useful hay up on the mows is rarely illustrated.

Many people criticize the telephone girls, but it does seem as if they always do their best to conceal any pleasure they may find in announcing "line busy."

Republicans are said to be encouraging the Willis presidential boom in order to let him out gracefully from the mess he has made of things as governor. They do not think he has a chance for nomination and are sure he cannot win the Ohio delegation, but they want to be rid of him, and he wants to make a graceful exit.

State Oil Inspector James N. Carr, who Representative Van S. Beaton, Republican, of Miami county, last winter denounced on the floor of the house of representatives as an agent of the school book ring, announces that the good young governor will be nominated for president on the fourth ballot. The inspector has charge of the securing of the Ohio delegates.

Here is a pungent paragraph from the Putnam County Sentinel in which Hon. A. P. Sandles has more than a little interest: "Governor Willis and the 'red book' made voters in 1914 believe that there were too many commissions to run the state. Instead of lessening the number of departments, more have been created. Big extra expense has been added. And now a million dollar building is to be erected as an addition to the statehouse to take care of the extra Willis commissions and expenses."

County Fairs.

September is county fair month. These gatherings, theoretically conducted to promote scientific agriculture, are a kind of combination of neighborhood reunion, midway amusement features, and horse racing.

Of recent years there has been some tendency to return to the more educational fair. It is a great chance for the agricultural colleges to get a crowd of men together to hear what can be done with scientific farm methods.

A great deal of money is commonly distributed in the form of premiums to good stock. As the farmers who get these awards are liberally advertised, some people say they should be willing to show their cattle, swine, and horses for the award of ribbons. But making the round of the fairs with a herd of stock is a laborious and costly proposition, besides taking a good deal out of the animals. Anyway the farmers won't usually do it without a money return.

A display of blooded stock should be an incentive to good methods in animal husbandry. It should help teach the farmer's boy that mongrel animals are unprofitable and may not even pay their own board. This year's Licking county fair starting on September 28th promises to be unusually good and one of its most valuable features will be the Ohio experiment station's exhibit.

Autumn Philosophy.

To some people the autumn months bring chiefly thoughts of decay. They observe the fruition of crops and vegetation and the falling of leaves, and the end of a season impresses them with thoughts of decline. In cold climates the autumn brings foreboding thoughts of chill winter, winds and snows.

But to people who are able to live from day to day in the present, no season seems more joyous. It is the period of harvest when man's labor has brought its complete product, and there are rejoicings over tasks finished and toil rewarded. Nature puts on her most golden colors. These are transient, but one should think of the present beauty rather than the future collapse.

In temperature the months of autumn bring relief from heat and offer the best tonic of the year. The people who postpone their vacation from the heat of summer have their outing at a period when they can enjoy outdoor life and traveling with less fatigue.

The Lot of the Umpire.

Editorials are noted in several exchanges protesting against the characteristic habit of baiting the baseball umpire. A heavy dose of contumely and active insult usually goes with the modest sum of money given for this service. Also there are times when he needs a very considerable knowledge of the many art of self defense.

Good umpiring calls for a quick wit, ability to concentrate the mind, a faculty for accurate observation, a judicial spirit, a cool temper, and a familiarity with baseball rules. A great many men are umpiring very considerable games who are lacking in a number of these qualities, sometimes about all of them.

Yet cases where the umpire is deliberately unfair are not common. What happens is that from failure of eyesight or proper attention, often from judging a play from too great a distance, a decision is made that is clearly wrong. It is a very difficult thing not to make at least one such bad decision in a game. The ram-mind umpire usually tries to square it up by giving the next close decision to the side that lost the first. This may not be strictly ruleable, but it works out a rough sort of justice.

The trouble with the crowd is that it begins to bellow the moment one poor decision is made. Players and spectators become wild with rage. This "riles" the umpire's "dander." To show that he is not moved by the taunts and threats hurled at him he may continue to favor the side that lost the first decision. The game will thus likely break up in a row.

It is very poor policy for spectators or players to try to bluff an umpire. It merely invites further trouble.

ble and puts a man in a state of mind where he can't see things straight if he tries. The time to protest is after the game is over, and the proper persons to protest to are the men that have in charge the hiring of the umpire.

The Great Awakener.

(Chicago Herald.)

Lloyd-George has fairly earned and richly deserves the title of the "Great Awakener." If Great Britain is roused to a realization of the fact that she must put forth every effort and even put aside a few traditions if she is to triumph in the present war, it will be due in no small measure to the clarion calls of the minister of munitions.

He doesn't mince things in the least. He lays no healing unction to British self-complacency. He does not utter a syllable in support of the ancient doctrine that the British Empire is bound somehow to muddle through. On the contrary, he holds bluntly up before the country the possibility of a disastrous defeat—of the destruction of all that is dear to the British heart if the British patriotism does not rise to the occasion.

Whatever others may think about what Great Britain has already done in the present war, the little Welshman does not think she has done enough. He pays a tribute to France in the preface of a volume of his speeches just published and says that that heroic nation cannot be expected to bear much more of the burden. And what he thinks of the part Russia has played is sufficiently set forth in the statement that "for over twelve months, despite deficiencies in equipment, Russia has absorbed the energies of half of the German and four-fifths of the Austrian forces."

Great Britain must bear the weight that has fallen from the Russian shoulders as a result of the retreat of the Russian forces. She must arm, manufacture, enlist, "fight as never before or face the chances of defeat." Thus frankly does the "Great Awakener" speak and on this theory does he work.

Borrowing to Buy.

(Cleveland Leader.)

The big war loan which Great Britain, France and Russia are seeking to float in the United States will mean far more, if it becomes a fact, than it would signify if it were being made for any other purpose than spending the money borrowed in the United States. It is by no means an effort to obtain gold in America for use in Europe. All of the hundreds of millions to be borrowed will stay right here.

The money will go back to American wage-earners. American manufacturers, American farmers, miners, ranchmen and others engaged in supplying the wants of European governments. In a few months practically all of the great sum borrowed will be in the hands of a multitude of Americans. And other Americans, by thousands, will own the bonds sold to get the money spent for horses, motor trucks, leather, grain, ammunition, rifles and munitions of many kinds.

Long years after the end of the war these bonds will be a source of revenue to Americans, a drain upon the resources of Europe. In the end they will have to be paid and more wealth will pour into the hands of American investors. It is not strange that one high authority in England says that after the war is over America will have the cream, while Europe will be obliged to get along on milk, with some big countries reduced to skim milk, and not an excessive supply at that.

TAKE A LOOK

If You Have Time

No government will ever become sufficiently paternal to keep the sucker and his money together.

The Missourians are mighty careful of their women. Hez Rasco, who was hanged not long ago, spent seven years in the penitentiary for killing one.

Ever stop to think that the hero of a novel would be an unsufferable prig in real life?

It is a part of nature's evening up process that the man who is hen-pecked never knows it.

There is this to say for the man who patronizes the burlesque show; he does not pretend that he is doing it in the cause of art.

A man must lead a very active life to be able to dodge an issue.

The difference between them is exemplified in the fact that a man shivers it out until morning, while a woman gets up in the dark and hunts more covers.

A college girl's idea of a scandal is to hear that some other girl failed to make a sorority.

One half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, or even why.

Sometimes happiness doesn't depend on what we do as what we don't.

Generally speaking, a bore is one who insists on telling you what he thinks, instead of listening to what you think.

Radium has had the advantage of very active and enthusiastic press agents. When, by the way, is radium going to give its show?

The rule is that the woman who kills a man would have preferred to marry him.

A popular victory is the one achieved by the bird dog which fights and whips a bull dog.

Spirit of the Press

Believable Prosperity.

William A. Law of Philadelphia, president of the American Bankers' Association, says that soon the American people "will enjoy almost unbelievable prosperity."

Perhaps "almost unbelievable," but not quite. In the bright lexicon of American prosperity there is no such word as "unbelievable." The capacity of the American people for believing in prosperity is almost unbelievable itself. That capacity is only equaled by their capacity to enjoy prosperity. As all the signs of the times concur with the learned opinion of Mr. Law, the country's faith in prosperity is as unshakable as it believes the prosperity aforesaid would be unbelievable, if that were possible.—Kansas City Star.

Constructive Measure.

The most constructive act toward national preparedness that has been taken is the appointment of the new Naval Advisory Board, composed of leading scientists of the United States. This board should mean more to the United States in preparedness than an army of 1,000,000 untrained citizens turned into soldiers overnight. Scientists alone cannot make the United States impregnable in a military sense, but they can take the leadership in the movement to reduce warfare to what might be called a scientific basis. Under the advice of the eminent men who are to give their services to the government there should be an end to lost motion and waste. The scientific resources of the country—the greatest in the world—are at last to be mobilized for the benefit of the United States, and if Congress does its share the time should not be far distant when this nation will have the highest form of military proficiency.—Washington Post.

Angry at Dumba.

One of the most amusing outcomes of the Dumba exposures has been the unanimity with which Bohemians, Slovenes, Croats, Czechs, Slovaks and other former subjects of Austria-Hungary have risen up to denounce the Ambassador for his reflections upon them as a poor, ignorant, down-trodden lot and to declare their loyalty to the United States. These people left the Dual Monarchy because of the oppressive measures directed against them, and they have found liberty and prosperity in their new home. No wonder they resent Dr. Dumba's crocodile tears and pass resolutions of protest and denunciation.—Philadelphia Record.

Indiana Politics.

Seven of the men who were indicted along with Thomas Taggart for election irregularities in the Indiana election of last year have confessed. The last one says, in explanation of the act: "I do not want to be bothered by anyone in connection with these cases." How he is bothered everyone might know. It was doubtless to get him to serve himself or in some way to save the party from ignominy and defeat. But he wouldn't do that—wouldn't tell the truth, and the truth is something that politics doesn't want anything to do with, especially when the penitentiary is staring it in the face. So great were the frauds in Indiana last year that the Democratic victories in that state, which fact justifies one in believing that during recent years Indiana was Democratic by fraud.—Ohio State Journal.

Pointed Observations

With a permanent hereditary president, as proposed, the republic of China would be self-governing in about the same degree as a man whose wife refuses to let him carry a latch-key.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Old toppers who have been spurning grape juice will now proceed to kick themselves. Doc Evans says it contains about 10 per cent alcohol.—Toledo Blade.

At the opposite pole to Dr. Dumba is Ambassador Chinda, who has nothing at all to say.—Columbia State.

It is announced from Columbus, O., that the Sunday law will be enforced on Cincinnati as well as elsewhere. Such action by the state authorities will convince Cincinnati that the foundations of liberty have crumbled and the roof of civilization blown entirely off.—Houston Post.

When Jude Johnson dies, many people will think that his rest has been broken, and not begun.—Athenian Globe.

General Wood, innocent bystander, retreats and will not again fool with the Bug River of poitices.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Dumba seems to have fallen off the diplomatic fence.—Baltimore Sun.

The position of Germany has been modified, but those contemplating travel are still expected to proceed with caution.—Washington Star.

The leading movie actress who would rather be a scrubwoman than a film star probably won't find more than 37,894 char-ladies willing to exchange.—Washington Post.

The man who doesn't smoke or drink is a sore trial to the doctors. They don't know what to tell him he will have to give up.—Cleveland Leader.

Jimmy Archibald, probably remembers with regret the dear boyhood days when he could find nothing in his pocket but a hole.—Washington Post.

One thing leads to another. A man can't even fight a duel without having a second.

Dark or shine, it's all mine with the black.

BORROWING UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Uncle Walt

THE MONEY GOES.

Poor father often has the blues, the stricken soul within him groans; the children need eight pairs of shoes, and he has only seven bones. The good wife needs a Sunday gown, with flossy gussers, seams and tucks; he'd send her shopping through the town, but he has only seven bucks. The boys are all in need of suits, to clothe their shapely limbs, and trunks, and he self wants rubber boots, but he has only seven plunks. The blizzards from the arctic pole will soon be rolling down again, and how can he buy wood and coal, when he has only seven yen? And there are taxes he must pay, and bills for oil and bills for gas, and bills for prunes and bills for hay, and bills for pills and window glass. Expenses face him every hour; what wonder if his face is sour, when he has only seven chips? But somehow he will do the trick, and feed the tribe that on him leans, for good old father is a brick, although he has but seven beans.

The old fashioned dude who used to soap his bangs so they would lie flat down on his forehead now has a son who combs his hair so he will look like a sea lion.

A woman gets so little pleasure that if she didn't get to talk about what she is going to do she wouldn't have any fun at all.

After looking over some of the fool laws made by the state legislature a man finds it an easy matter to keep the Ten Commandments.

Before he gets her he would kiss the ground she walks on. After he gets her he gets mad if he has to wipe his face on the same towel she dried her face on.

A woman with a face like a dried herring gets as much pleasure out of admiring the hats in the window of a millinery store as a pretty girl does. It takes more than the knowledge that she is a grandma to make a woman quit feeling giddy these days.

A man is almost as inconsistent as a woman. If she wants nice clothes he kicks, and if she looks shabby when she goes out he kicks.

Some of the old saws will have to be revamped. Lots of people marry at leisure and repent in haste.

If we didn't have the weather to talk about this country would be spared about 78,043,521,497,634 yards of unnecessary conversation every day.

Anyway, it is better to go down to defeat with a clear conscience than to climb to victory and not be able to sleep at night.

Do not take yourself seriously. The world is laughing at you oftener than it is laughing with you.

A woman at a bargain sale always acts as if there is never going to be another one.

Useful vs. Beautiful.

There are people still living who remember when tomatoes were supposed to be poisonous; were grown as ornamental plants, and called "love apples." When they were thought noxious, they were beautiful—like an innocent act falsely condemned as a sin. As soon as they appeared in the soup as beautiful as ever. Down in New Mexico the Agricultural College is experimenting with sweet peas as a winter cover crop and a forage plant. Shall we cease to admire them and buy them at the florist's shop when they are used for ensilage and plowed down to fertilize the corn? I suppose so—and the pity of it is that so very many people who in that case will be sowing, tending and harvesting sweet peas will lose the sense of their beauty, thereby losing also a certain portion of the happiness properly belonging to the business of tilling the soil.

Society

On Thursday evening a jolly crowd of young people gathered at the home of Myron Cline in Maple avenue, the occasion being the eighteenth anniversary of his birth. Mr. Cline was taken completely by surprise. He was presented with a handsome scarf-pin, after which the guests proceeded to enjoy themselves with games and music. Several selections were sung by Miss Helen Peck and Raymond Cramer, Albert Black and Katherine Stouch, and a solo by George Morrison.

At a late hour a luncheon was served, after which the guests departed for their homes. The guests were: Sophia Siegle, Beatrice Thompson, Leona Gilmore, Mary Woods, Anna Wheeler, Ethel Williams, Helen Vogel, Katherine Johns, Helen Stouch, Katherine Stouch, Helen Peck, Messrs. Albert Black, Donald Helmske, Albert Elliott, Charles Thompson, Theodore Chapman, Searl Nephers, Gerald Helmske, Myron Cline, Raymond Cramer, George Morrison, Edgar Albright.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willey and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shops entertained the members of the Y. M. W. F. C. at their home in Fleek avenue last evening. Games were played, the prize being won by Miss Bessie Willey. Mrs. Eugene Shops served a three course lunch, and Mr. Wilbur L. Hiles furnished music.

Those present were: Misses Bessie Willey, Goldie Hiles, Bessie Sames, Mary and Frances Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Manning, Mrs. Rebecca Warren, Mr. Wilbur Hiles, Mr. Walter Falley, Mrs. Emma L. Hiles.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clara Thompson, 135 Decrow avenue.

Brides roses and lilies were used effectively at the dinner dance given to favor Miss Charlotte Thurston Webb, on Thursday evening, by Mrs. J. S. Jones at the Jones summer home, Bryn Du, near Granville. The immediate bridal party was seated at a large table centering the room and the centerpiece was of lilies and roses. The chair of Miss Webb had been covered with bridal roses and lilies caught with loops of the sheerest tulle, making a charming picture.

The guest list included thirty-two, many of whom were out of town guests here for the Kelley-Webb nuptials. Dancing followed the dinner.

MOORE-HARTSOCK.

At one o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Dr. L. C. Sparks solemnized the marriage of Miss Florence Hartsock and Mr. Benjamin D. Moore. The ring service was used and the bride was attended by Miss Eliza Moore, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Ernest Brooks.

Mr. Moore resides at Alexandria, while the bride's home is in Johnston. They will make their home in Alexandria.

HEIB-EVANS.

At the First Presbyterian church, Thursday morning, the Rev. Calvin G. Hazlett united in marriage Theodore J. Heib and Mrs. Sarah H. Evans, both of Buckeye Lake.

Miss Elizabeth E. Lyth and Mr. Robert McManus were married at the Franklin Street M. E. church on September 13, 1887, in Baltimore, Md. The 58th anniversary of the marriage was celebrated at their home in Elmwood avenue on Monday, when their neighbors and friends and members of the C. I. A., B. of L. E., and W. R. C. assembled and assisted them in the celebration of the day. Many pretty gifts were received.

Mrs. William Wingert entertained Wednesday afternoon the ladies of the Social Sewing club. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Fred Moore, the vice president presided. The treasurer, Miss Esther Warner, was present again to resume her duty after spending the summer in Northport, Mich. A number of selections were given on the Victrola. Light refreshments were served later in the day. All adjourned, thanking Mrs. Wingert for the delightful afternoon spent at her home.

A luncheon of pretty appointments was given to honor Miss Charlotte Webb on Thursday afternoon by Miss Sue Walker at the Country club. The luncheon table was centered with a golden basket filled with yellow dahlias.

The guests were: Misses Charlotte Webb, Juliette Besuden, Annette Besuden, Hazel Atshool, Dorothy Beard, Martha Wright, Mary Sherwood Wright, Betty Jones, Hildegarde Ware, Frances Hooper, Helen Sheridan of Chicago, Catherine Colleser of Boston, Mass., and Margaret Ashley of Toledo.

Among the guests to arrive in the city today for the Kelley-Webb wedding on Saturday evening are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kinney of Cincinnati, Mr. Paul Prentice of Chicago, Mr. William Belknap of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Mary Stem of Cincinnati.

Mrs. C. B. White left on Thursday for Brevoort Lake, Mich., where she will spend some time at the White cottage.

"LET GO" TO GET COMPLETE HOLD

Relaxation Necessary to Insure Winging of Health, Strength and Grace. Illustration Posed by Miss Grace Gibson.

In article No. 15 of the development series written for the Advocate by Anna Louise Shafer we are told why an occasional "letting go" really means a more complete hold on the splendid things which are to be the result of following this series—muscular and nervous control, health, strength and grace.

By Anna Louise Shafer.
(Copyright, 1915, by J. Keeley.)

We have found that relaxation is exercise of the will in the matter of "letting go"—in other words, the expressed intention to rest, and to rest completely not merely to "sag" down hanging onto the ragged edge of nerve exhaustion. The difference between relaxation and sagging is as great as the difference between a serene controlled mind, which holds mental effort in reserve for the time being, with the thought "we have done enough for today," and a mental torpor due to lack of brain development.

The reason we take relaxation in sections—the legs, the arms, the torso, the head, is that through this transference of energy from one part of the body to the other by exercise of the will we get complete control of the muscles; and through the muscular system of the nervous system. The keyboard must be mastered and the scales practiced before we shall be able to give the completed symphony.

The value of relaxation in the acquiring of graceful bearing is that it "frees the channels of expression"; corrects stiff, musclebound habits, bringing the articulations or joints into consciousness, later into balanced activity, or harmony of action.

Lesson XV.

Raising the arms straight above the head, let them drop as though they were heavy weights suspended from the shoulder joints. With the hips held firm, in balanced poise, twist the torso at the waist line, first right, then left, which swings the relaxed arms from side to side in a nerve-resting exercise, which will result in great freedom of arm movement.

WILLIS NAMES SUNDAY, OCT. 3, AS RALLY DAY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, Sept. 17.—In a formal proclamation, Governor Willis today recommended that Sunday, October 3, which has been designated as Rally Day by the Sunday schools and churches of the state be generally observed and that parents and their children attend Sunday school and church on that day.

The governor urges that this be done "to attest in an especial way our interest in the things of the spirit and our abiding faith in Divine power working through human agencies to develop a worthier citizenship and higher civilization." He calls attention to estimates which place the number of children enrolled in the Sunday schools of the world at 31,000,000. Of this number more than half are in the United States and of these 1,300,000 are in Ohio, the governor said.

"The fact that the attendance in these schools is rapidly and steadily increasing is the cause of alarm nowhere; it is the occasion of joy and congratulation everywhere," the proclamation recites.

AMERICANS KILL ONE MEXICAN IN BORDER BATTLE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 17.—American cavalrymen and Carranza soldiers had a fifteen minute battle across the river today near the city limits of Brownsville. Soldiers report they killed one Mexican and hit five others. They saw about fifteen Carranza soldiers in two separate groups.

The cavalrymen replied to the fire lying in the brush, but could not see what they were shooting at on the Mexican side. They merely fired in the direction whence the bullets came. No casualties were reported on the American side.

There were twenty cavalrymen in the patrol. The Mexican whose horse was wounded, reported that he had been fired upon from the Mexican side without provocation or warning while he was driving along the river bank.

THOUGHT IT A SQUIRREL, BUT HE WAS FOOLED

William H. Broome will always remember his squirrel hunt of 1915, and so will his companions who accompanied him on the trip. Armed with his trusty fowling piece Mr. Broome arose bright and early and started down the east end of Buckeye Lake. He had made his boasts of how he would secure his quota of game before 7 o'clock as the state law only permits of the bagging of five of the little rodents.

On the way to the lower end of the lake the intrepid hunter spied a peppy little animal which looked to him like a squirrel and he blazed away and over it went. Mr. Broome ran up to it and holding it up by the tail exclaimed: "Just look what I got." The aforementioned little animal then proceeded to get in its work and turning on its batteries "made the atmosphere resemble that which must occur when the foreign armies shoot their poisonous shells into the enemy's trenches.

With an exclamation that sounded much like "Great Jehosophate," or something similar, Mr. Broome dropped his quarry and it hustled away having only been playing possum.

The gentleman then looked for his companions but they threatened him with death should he approach and warned him to stay away from the cottage until he could procure a new outfit and a pint of perfume. Mr. Broome made his way to the restaurant on the lower end and bribed the cook to get him a complete new outfit even to shoes and stockings. It fit him a little soon but he waited until dark and made his way home. He says that when he goes hunting in the future he will take along a guide to explain just what game he is aiming at.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

One often hears of over eating as a cause of bad temper. No doubt it is. But under eating is just as frequent a cause of ill temper, especially in the young and fast growing and with those who lead strenuous lives.

Ill nourished nerves are just as apt to get on edge as poisoned nerves. Poor food, especially food deficient in fats, gives rise to nerve starvation and peevishness and explosive temper. If the fat of meat does not agree with you, you can get the digestible form of fat from good butter or cream.

There is another way in which the nerves can be starved and set on edge and that is by lack of fresh air. People often suffer from air hunger without knowing it. This kind of hunger makes them just as irritable as food hunger.

Women who lead sedentary lives in close rooms and rarely take exercise in the open air, seldom if ever, are light hearted. They can't be. They suffer from what is called oxygen hunger. Their blood properly rich and healthy. If your blood is poor your nerves are bound to suffer, and your friends will suffer too, more or less, from your hasty temper.

Your Boys and Girls

In selecting menus for young children, macaroni and spaghetti should be more relied upon for variety than is usual. The error of using potatoes every day is one of the most common to be met with in the nursery. The starch of a properly cooked potato is usually easily digested, but too great reliance is usually placed upon its supplying a large share of the nutriment in a well balanced menu, whereas the fact of the potato being three parts water to one part starch shows the fallacy of this conclusion.

They are useful for supplying salts in restricted diets; for instance, if vegetables and fruits are not obtainable, they may be depended upon to supply some of the salts necessary for a well balanced menu and at the same time provide starch and prevent concentration. The fact that the starch of potatoes is easily digested makes them a fit food for the very young, and if not abused, that is not relied on for every day use, they are a valuable nursery food.

Every Day Etiquette

"How long should one remain at an afternoon tea?" asked Mabel.

"The time depends upon circumstances. One should not linger too long, nor rush in and out with marked haste. About one half or three quarters of an hour is a good medium," said her aunt.

The Courts

Answer Filed.

In the case of Anna V. Camp vs.
S. K. Greenwood, et al., trustees, the defendant in answer admitted a petition was presented in December, 1914, praying for location of a ditch and that the route described in the petition is practically correct and they further find proceedings were allowed as prayed for in the petition,
and that on May 3, 1915, the report of the engineer was confirmed by the trustees; they admit that said ditch
as allowed by them will empty into what is called an open ditch, but they say that the measurements of said open ditch are incorrect. The defendants deny each and every other allegation and ask that the same be dismissed at costs of the plaintiff.

Answer in Damage Suit.

The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago
and St. Louis Railway Co. has filed an answer in common pleas court to the damage suit filed by Edward Kibler, Jr., administrator to the estate of Eliza Strauderman. The defendant admits certain allegations,
among them that Eliza Strauderman,
a watchman in the employ of the defendant, was struck by a switch engine on Dec. 2, 1914, and from which injuries he afterward died.
Defendant avers that at the time
Strauderman was employed by defendant but that his death was caused by his own carelessness and negligent conduct and that he assumed all the hazards and risks incidental thereto.

Chicago Grain.
[Associated Press Telegram]

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The wheat market today showed strength as a result of reports of a broadening demand in Europe. The smallness of the contract stock on hand here made the September option advance more rapidly than other deliveries. On the upper, however, there was rather feeble selling by leading houses. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/4¢ off to two cents advance, with December at 9 1/2¢ to 9 3/4¢, and May at 9 1/2¢ to 9 3/4¢, was followed by something of a reaction and then a fresh rally.

Subsequently, however, that northwestern farmers were selling steady wheat on quite a liberal scale tended to bring about a setback, especially as Winnipeg futures were relatively much lower than the same options here. The close was weak, ranging from 1 1/4¢ to 1 1/2¢ lower, and the advance with December at 9 1/2¢ and May at 9 1/2¢.

Corn hardened with wheat. At first though, the market gave evidence that the ideal weather was being altogether
lost sight of. After opening unchanged at 1 1/4¢ lower, prices scored moderate gains all around.

Increased arrivals from the country
acted later as a handicap on the bulls.
The close was steady at 1 1/4¢ under last night.

Oats reflected the strength of other cereals. Trade was light. The photograph was taken in London, where

mittee which has the matter of obtaining supplies for the Italian army
in its charge. His business, no

 3 1/2, and then rose to 3 3/4. Willys-Overland gained three to 18 1/2, and other specialties were fractionally higher. U. S. Steel was unchanged at the outset, then fell off a fraction,

 terday at 7 1/2. Union Pacific, Reading,

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

A misunderstanding of the law of supply and demand has caused more mercantile wrecks than all other mistakes combined. A limited supply of a given article coupled with a heavy demand for that article does not mean quick sales and high prices unless other conditions harmonize. The law of supply and demand must be applied to all things simultaneously in order to judge its effect on a given article.

time, those dreadful spells of wheezing, sneezing and weeping can usually be avoided.

NOSTRIOLA is easily applied and brings prompt relief in cases of Rose Cold, Hay Fever, Nasal Catarrh, Croup, Asthma and other stoppages
of the air passages.

Get a small tube of NOSTRIOLA of your druggist today and you'll wish you had tried it sooner.

BEING CAST
IN CONTEST

NO NOMINATION CAN BE MADE
AFTER TOMORROW NIGHT
SEPT. 18.

Voting Will Continue Till Sept. 22
—Miss Stone Again in First Place—Who Will Be Ruth?

A heavy vote was cast again yesterday in the Alhambra's "Who Will Be Ruth?" contest the count made late in the evening by Manager Siebanoller showing that Miss Stone had regained first position, Miss Woolees who the previous day had jumped from fourth place, taking second position only ten coupons behind Miss Stone. Miss Besuden remains in third place only 17 votes behind first place. Miss Duerr showed strength by reaching fourth place. It will be noted that there is a difference of only 54 votes or coupons between first and fifth places, a remarkably close race. The fact that more than half of the contestants have a smaller vote does not mean that the first honors rests with one of the first five named, by any means. It is said that some of the contestants have votes that have not yet been cast.
The vote from day to day is of course that deposited in the ballot box at the Alhambra theatre.

The vote up to this morning:
Miss Florence Stone . . . 539
Miss Decima Woolees . . . 529
Miss Annette Besuden . . . 522
Miss Myrtle Duerr . . . 521
Miss Marguerite Hayes . . . 485
Miss Dora Siegel . . . 381
Miss Tillie Jennings . . . 253
Miss Grace Nolan . . . 222
Miss Blanche Frost . . . 201
Miss Ruth Daley . . . 133
Miss Hazel Athey . . . 110
Miss Bernice Floyd . . . 91
Miss Agnes Donevan . . . 86
Miss Carrie Crego . . . 78
Miss Irma Alspach . . . 57
Miss Anna Riegger . . . 55

No new names can be entered in the contest after tomorrow, Sept.
18th. After Saturday night the contest will be confined to the names
nominated up to that time.

All that is necessary to make a nomination is to clip the Advocate coupon, write upon it the name of the young woman whom you desire to nominate and then send the coupon to the Alhambra ballot box. The rules of the contest have been published several times. The theatre management reserves the right to reject any nomination.

The young woman receiving the largest vote will be given the role of Ruth in the Newark picture play to be taken by experts. The next ten highest will have a part in the play
so that in fact the first ten in the contest will all be winners. The Newark picture will be shown at the Alhambra for six days beginning
Oct. 4.

The nominations close tomorrow,
Sept. 18, the voting stops Wednesday, Sept. 22. Who will be Ruth?
Who will be the other ten in the Newark Photoplay. Coupon today appears on page 13.

Friends of the contestants have been asked by Manager Siebanoller to send the contestants' photographs to the Theatre. Several have already responded. The photographs will appear in the Advocate beginning either tomorrow or Monday.

Many inquiries have been made both at the theatre and at this office about extra coupons. One coupon is given with each admission to the Alhambra if the patron asks for
it. A coupon will be printed daily in this paper up to September 22.
The price of the Advocate is 2 cents
each to everybody except to the newsboys and news agents who buy
the papers for one cent and sell them for two. Papers will be sold to newsboys and agents only at the wholesale price. To all others no matter in what quantity the price has been and is 2 cents the copy.

establish a base on Banks land and continue his exploration from that point.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 17.—First definite tidings that the world has received from Vilhjalmur Stefans-
son, the Arctic explorer, for a year and a half, were received today by the naval department which sent him
and his companions on their perilous trip to the frozen north. The advice from the explorer were meagre, but sufficient to show that he and his companions are safe.

Stefansson's advice came from Nome, Alaska, in the form of a message, signed by himself and dispatched from Baillie Islands on August 31. The message follows:
"As unavoidable delays threatened and the running cost of chartering Polar Bear was high, I purchased her and engaged her on terms
similar to Karluk. Engaged Hoff, engineer of Schooner Ruby, to take place of Blue of Alaska. Engaged five extra helpers for Southern parts
who have ample outfit for one year and Polar Bear for two years. Plan continue northern exploration to hundred and forty-five west, and eighty-two north, if northerly course is secured."

Stefansson's determination to proceed with his explorations despite the loss of the Karluk, the chief vessel in his original expedition shows
the calibre of the man and this news
was received with gratification here.

The Polar Bear, engaged by him in place of the Karluk, is a well known arctic vessel and he seems to have gathered supplies for a further stay of two years in the Arctic zone.

Baillie Island from which Stefansson's message is dated, is east of the mouth of the MacKenzie river to-

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 17.—The receipt at Ottawa, Ont., today of a message from the Vilhjalmur Stefansson expedition, by way of Nome, Alaska, was the first direct tidings
of the explorer for a year and a half.

No news of the explorer and his two companions has been received since their supporting party turned back April 7, 1914, from Camp Separation,
on the north coast of Alaska.

At that time he expected to reach Banksland, on the drifting ice, but the strong current from the Mackenzie river and unfavorable winds drove the ice to the westward. This drift, it was hoped by Stefansson's friends, would carry the explorer and his companions toward the Siberian coast.

There remained hope that he had found refuge on Wianell Island,
where the survivors of the Stefansson exploration ship Karluk sought safety, after that vessel was crushed in the ice, 13 months ago.
This hope was buoyed up by a circumstantial account received at Nome last April to the effect that natives hunting seal last winter near Icy Cape, on the Arctic coast of Alaska, reported that they saw a white man marooned on an ice floe,
which was drifting in a southwesterly direction toward Wrangell Island.

With Stefansson when he left Martin Point late in March, 1914,
were Ole Anderson and Storker Sorkerson, men said to be as strong and resourceful as Stefansson himself. They had rifles, a sledge that could be used as a boat, abundance of food and other supplies.

A Beautiful Showing Of The Famous

Since "Beacon" Blankets first appeared on the market some years ago, the demand for them has steadily increased until today the sale of these blankets is enormous. Come in and see them. Beacon blankets are cotton blankets, with many advantages over wool. They are made of the finest long staple cottonable, by a process that makes them sanitary, durable blankets. They are soft and warm, unshrinkable, colors fast and can be washed as often as you like. The weight is especially adapted for the various occasions, and the trimmings and bindings are such as to lend a touch of beauty as well as put a finish to an already serviceable article. From the plain white blanket to the highly colored Indian effect or attractive children's designs, these blankets all have that excellent finish, which has gained for them a world-wide reputation. Here are some of the many styles shown in these famous blankets.

- Beacon Red Blankets.
- Beacon Plaid Blankets.
- Beacon Bath Robe Blankets with cords to match.
- Beacon Indian Blankets.
- Beacon Indian Couch Throws.
- Beacon Traveling Bags.
- Beacon Jacquard Comfortables.
- Beacon Crib Blankets.
- Beacon Baby Bags.

The Beautiful "Beacon" Robe Flannel

A handsome material for both robes. The colorings are beautiful, and do not overlook the good value for money. Beacon flannel is supreme for quality, variety and attractiveness. 27 inches wide. 35c yard.

PROSPEROUS
YEAR IN PROSPECT FOR DENISON UNIVERSITY WHICH OPENED THURSDAY

First Chapel Exercises of Year Held With Fine Attendance—News from Granville.
(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Sept. 17.—The first chapel service was held on the hill yesterday with a fine attendance, and every thing promises well for a most prosperous year at Denison. All departments will soon have fallen into line for the year's work. The officials are highly satisfied with the outlook, especially with the number of new students who are enrolling. It is expected that by the end of the week the total enrollment will have reached 600. When regular recitations begin next Monday, five new professors will be seen in college. Dr. Fish, biology, succeeds Prof. Orcutt; Prof. Johnston, formerly of Oberlin College, succeeds Prof. Hoppe in the department of public speaking; Miss Lucille Powell, a graduate of Denison, former dean of Central College, Iowa, who spent last year in study in the University of Chicago, will be acting dean in place of Miss Judson; Miss Shoemaker of Wells College, will teach for one year in place of Miss Peckham, absent on leave; Prof. Whittlesey of Chicago University, in the department of history will fill the place of Prof. Kull, absent on leave.

An error was made in yesterday's news in announcing the place of meeting of the Travelers' club on Monday afternoon, September 20. This is to be the Geology Lecture room of Science Hall, and Dr. Frank Carney is to address the club on the subject of "Alaskan Glaciers," showing an extensive series of lantern slides in illustration of the subject. Miss Lena Green of Pearl street left this week for Pittsburg to resume her duties as teacher in the Western Pennsylvania College for Women.

The township road signs, ordered some time ago by the trustees through the agent, Mr. E. P. Hobart, are all ready to put in place. Every township in the county should follow suit. Ohio is lamentably lacking in these signs for the convenience of tourists. Mrs. W. M. Husted of Norwalk, who has been visiting at the home of President and Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain on College Hill, has returned to her home. Mrs. Jane Buckland has returned home from a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Gunther in Cleveland. Mrs. Lucy Van Kirk, editor of the Ohio Messenger, delivered an address at the W. C. T. U. county convention held in Zanesville last week, which was accounted one of the important features of the meetings. The removal of Rev. A. J. Hawk, pastor of the Methodist church in Granville to New Lexington, is a source of regret to the many friends of himself and his family. Dr. Hawk is a man of progressive ideas and fine public spirit, and he has thrown his influence on the side of true progress in every movement for civic betterment since his coming. He will be succeeded by Rev. Otto Gleson. Prof. and Mrs. Karl Eschman are pleasantly located in the Wood cottage in Park Drive and are ready to receive their friends. Mrs. Eschman has returned from a visit with friends in Cleveland. Miss Gayle Ingraham Smith has returned to her place in Denison Conservatory, where she is teacher of violin.

Mrs. F. L. Ferguson has arrived in Granville from Petoskey, Mich., and both she and her husband will be the guests of her brother and sister, Prof. and Mrs. C. B. White on Mt. Parnassus until they are settled in their new home in South Mulberry street.

Miss Mary McKibben, who has spent the entire summer in Michigan, returned home last evening. It is said that Dr. W. E. Clemons, township clerk, has issued 57 licenses to hunters in the past few days—and surely the woods—or at least the roads leading to said woods—are full of them!

Sigma Chi has been enlivened during the week by a visit from several alumni, among them being Messrs. H. S. Stout, J. B. Long, R. W. Schurman, E. T. Wolfe, and Gerald Athey, who motored up from Dayton.

Miss Juliet Rogers, younger daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Rogers, will leave on Monday to assume her school duties in Columbia, S. C.

At a recent meeting of the township board of education, Clarence Jamison was employed to carry the school children from District No. 7 on Burg street to District No. 8 on North street at a salary of $50 per month.

Mr. Harry Willis, formerly cashier in the Granville Bank, is in Granville for a short visit with old friends.

The attendance at the public schools is far in excess of the accommodations. The next thing in order will be enlargement and improvement of the school equipment. It doesn't pay to pinch and hamper the little ones in their pursuit of knowledge.

Auditorium—"The Stolen Voice" (Robert Warwick).
At the Auditorium.
Robert Warwick, whose reputation as a motion picture artist, is steadily advancing has a part of outstanding strength in this play, "The Stolen Voice," and he does it ample justice. Dorville, the gifted singer is beloved by two women, one rich and the other poor. When he loses his voice and is "down and out" the rich girl (after the manner of her kind) deserts him and the poor girl is loyal.
In despair Dorville goes to a motion picture studio; gets a job and becomes a star. The poor girl also works in the studio and has become a star. A happy marriage results. The scenes of vocal and motion picture life are beautifully staged. "The Stolen Voice" will be presented at the Auditorium Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

AMBASSADOR AND MME. DUMBA PACKING TRUNKS PREPARATORY TO LEAVING U. S.

New photograph of Ambassador and Mme. Dumba at their summer home at Lenox, Mass.

Ambassador and Mme. Dumba are packing their trunks preparatory to departing from the country whose hospitality the ambassador violated. "It seems hardly real—that my husband and I have been asked to leave this country where we have made so many warm friends," said Mme. Dumba at the Dumba summer home in Lenox, Mass. "But I guess it is only another one of the hardships this dreadful war is demanding of the world."

BUDDHISM

MAY BE PREACHED UNIVERSALLY IN CHINA BY JAPANESE MISSIONARIES

According to an Agreement Upon One of the Articles in the Pending Negotiation.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Peking, Aug. 4.—China agrees that Japanese subjects shall have the right of missionary propaganda in China.

This apparently simple statement, which was article seven of group five in the recent demands Japan made upon China, has created much commotion in China and is the subject of hot discussion in the press.

All of the demands made under group five were waived temporarily by Japan. Mr. Hiroki, the Japanese minister, said: "As relates to the question of the right of missionary propaganda, the same shall be taken up again for negotiation in future."

The missionary propaganda referred to in the treaty was the preaching of Buddhism, and the announcement in Chinese papers that Japanese Buddhists will probably soon send delegations to China to preach their claim for permission to preach Japanese Buddhism to the Chinese is causing uneasiness.

Chinese newspapers frankly say the movement is purely political and that the Japanese hope to send so-called religious leaders who will extend Japan's influence. There are more than forty Chinese treaty ports where Japanese missionaries could carry on their work without interference and the papers are pointing out that Japanese Buddhists should first go to these places and demonstrate their good intentions, just as Catholic and Protestant missions have. Furthermore there are many inland cities open to international trade where the Chinese papers say there would be no objection to Japanese missionary work.

"To come and preach Buddhism in China is like carrying coals to Newcastle," says the China Coast Post. "There is no town or village so small that it hasn't a Buddhist temple. They are even in the lonely places among the hills, where no visitor is seen from month's end to month's end. Japan received her Buddhism from China, but the imparting of it in no way diminished the home supply. It is not claimed that the Japanese have so improved the faith as to make it a new one. From the native point of view there is no more need for this particular kind of mission than there would be for Japanese to come here to teach the Chinese people how to read their own classics and write their own characters, both of which Japan adopted from China."

Buddhist monks are making an earnest effort in many parts of China to revive interest in Buddhism. This was apparent even before the Japanese sought permission to have their religious workers enter China, but the Japanese request has probably assisted the movement among Chinese monks. At present two celebrated Buddhists from South China, Ti-Yen and Shen-Tsu, are holding revivals in Peking which will continue for fifty days. A number of government officials of considerable rank have lent their assistance to the movement, which is commanding much space in the local papers.

It is the desire of the two Buddhist leaders to establish a college in Peking and standardize the priests and nuns throughout the country by having the government issue certificates to worthy leaders. By this means they hope to subvert the positions of unworthy persons who pose as religious leaders.

MRS. LYON'S AGES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the greatest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

WILL DEVELOP PAN-AMERICAN AERONAUTICS

(Associated Press Telegram.) New York, Sept. 17.—Alberto Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian pioneer in aeronautics, who made the first public flight with a dirigible balloon, has accepted an invitation from the Aero Club of America to head a Pan-American committee to take charge of a movement to develop aeronautics in South and Central America. In a letter received by the Aero club yesterday Santos-Dumont promised to arrive in this country early in October. One purpose of the proposed movement will be to hasten a solution of the problems of transportation presented by the mountainous topography of the countries concerned. It is proposed to solve these questions by the use of flying machines.

FINANCER WHO SWALLOWED POISON NOW RECOVERING.

(Associated Press Telegram.) New York, Sept. 17.—Newman Erb, financier and railroad reorganizer who swallowed two poison tablets by mistake last Tuesday was reported to be resting comfortably this morning, after having passed a quiet night. Although the four physicians attending Mr. Erb at his Deal, N. J., summer home said the railroad man has a fair chance for recovery.

The next three days will mark the most critical period. If the first aid administered to Mr. Erb did not prevent a considerable amount of the poison from entering his system, physicians believe that during the next seventy-two hours Mr. Erb will undoubtedly display some of the symptoms of this form of poisoning.

Thin Folks Who Would be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet combination of six splendid assimilative agents. Taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by the Evans Drug Co., and W. A. Erman, 33 N. Third St. and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

AWARDED $10 FOR SELECTING NAME FOR RESTAURANT

Samuel Sachs, the East Main street dyer and cleaner, was awarded a prize of ten dollars in gold for selecting a name for the new restaurant in West Main street which is to open its doors to the public next Tuesday. Mr. Sachs selected "Shondell's City Restaurant" and that seemed the most appropriate to the new proprietor and he awarded the prize to the lucky individual.

Shondell's City Restaurant occupies the Rider room, formerly the Newark Hardware company room in West Main street. It has been completely overhauled, handsomely decorated, a new front installed, and will be equipped with the latest of restaurant furniture. Nothing will be served at the opening next Tuesday but Mr. Shondell will throw open the doors to the public for inspection and each man and woman will be presented with a souvenir.

The proprietor states that his restaurant will cater to the general public, carrying a line of everything good on the market, with game and sea food in season, and the cuisine will be of the best and that the service will be unequalled. His motto will be cleanliness and quick service and he will endeavor to build up a splendid trade in this city.

Mr. Shondell comes here from Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he is also conducting a restaurant, having one of the largest in that city and enjoying a splendid patronage. He will endeavor to sustain the reputation which he has always enjoyed, of operating one of the finest restaurants in the country.

Sessions will be held at night.

OHIO MAN SAYS HE RECOVERED FROM HASTY CONSUMPTION

JOHN A. THIRTYEARE.

John A. Thirtiyeare, 812 Thomas Ave., Columbus, O., makes a statement that Nature's Creation cured him of hasty consumption. He adds that "I feel it my duty to tell what the medicine did for me. No matter how bad your case may be and no matter what people say, don't give up. Try Nature's Creation."

Read Mr. Thirtiyeare's statement about his recovery: "In April, 1910, I swallowed a large tack and it lodged in my lung, and in trying to cough it up the lung was torn. This affected the lungs and developed into a case of hasty consumption. Four doctors treated me, but my condition became worse until I was flat on my back. On September 10th, 1910, I began taking Nature's Creation—was having night sweats continually, pains in my chest and both lungs very sore, and was told by several physicians that I had tuberculosis and could not live over thirty days."

"After taking most of the first bottle of Nature's Creation, a wonderful improvement was noticeable and I continued to improve until I was entirely cured. When I began taking the medicine I weighed only 107 pounds. I now weigh 150 pounds and have never had a return of the old trouble."

In our booklet, "Truth," you will find stories from other local people of remarkable recoveries from tuberculosis and the conditions leading to it, such as asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, impure blood and run-down system. Call or write for free copy—today. M. L. Hermann, 208 Central National Bank Bldg., Columbus, O.

Beware of imitations—use only the original and genuine Nature's Creation.

Opening Week

Complete Showing of the New Fall Fabrics and Fashion

In this exhibit we believe we are offering the largest and most diversified display of fabrics ever attempted by any custom tailoring concern. Whatever your fancy as to texture and color may be we can supply it and you may be certain that any selection you make will be dependable in quality and unquestioned good style. Visitors are always welcome—doubly so this week, while we are making these special displays.

New Fall Suitings and Overcoats

At any of these prices you may select from the choicest and newest checks, stripes, plaids, mixtures and plain shades of the season, tailored to fit perfectly, every one of your individual measurements, good serviceable linings and bindings and thoroughly honest and dependable workmanship are further assurances. We give you your tailoring worthy of your every confidence—Values that no other good tailor could possibly duplicate at our prices.

Advantages of Early Selections

The early buyer gets first choice of fabrics, many of which are exclusive and limited in quantities has the satisfaction of being among the first to adopt the new fashions and thereby accentuates his individuality. If you do not care to order until later you may have samples of as many woolsens as interest you, so that comparisons (which we invite) can be made with what other tailors offer.

TREATIES

BETWEEN JAPAN AND CHINA ARE SUBJECT OF DAILY CONFERENCES

Between Japanese Officials Regarding Many of the Details Yet to Be Agreed Upon.

Peking, August 4.—Mr. Hiroki, the Japanese minister, is in daily conference with Foreign Office officials arranging details growing out of the Sino-Japanese treaties. It was agreed by Japan and China on May 25 that part of the sections of the new treaty relating to South Manchuria were suspended for three months to make necessary preparations for putting them into effect.

The suspended sections are designated as Articles 2, 3, 4, and 5 of Group 2. These sections provide that Japanese may lease land in South Manchuria for agricultural or commercial purposes; may reside, travel and engage in business there; may co-operate with Chinese in agricultural and industrial enterprises; but must submit to the police laws and taxation of China.

While the conference will doubtless result in an agreement between China and Japan as to the regulations under which these articles are to be put into force, Chinese newspapers are skeptical as to whether other nations interested in the Far East will accept the new conditions in South Manchuria uncomplainingly.

In discussing the sections of the treaty affecting Eastern Inner Mongolia and South Manchuria, the Peking Daily Gazette says: "The regulations in connection with the treaty respecting South Manchuria and Eastern Inner Mongolia may prove more difficult. The object that the Japanese have in view, as is clearly evidenced by the wording of the treaty, is to secure for Japanese exclusively the right to lease land, travel and reside and carry on any kind of business in South Manchuria as well as special privileges in Inner Eastern Mongolia. This will be difficult of attainment as the most favored nation clause is a formidable obstacle to Japan's ambitions."

Much interest is manifested in China in the Japanese promise last May, before the completion of the new treaties, that Japan would not ask for any rights in Shantung province which Germany did not enjoy. The new treaties provide that China is to open certain ports in that province for foreign trade after consulting with the Japanese minister. The two governments are now discussing the ports which are to be opened and an announcement of the decision is expected this month.

Germany never claimed any right to demand that she should be consulted concerning China's general policy in Japan, according to the Peking Gazette, which says: "The object that Japan had in making this demand was obvious. She sought an admission from China that her policy as regards Shantung, as in the case of South Manchuria, was to be dictated by Japan. Under a threat of war China made this admission and thus, under duress, assisted Japan to alter materially the 'status quo' that she had solemnly pledged herself to maintain by the Root-Takahira agreement."

"In fact, the open door has practically ceased to exist as far as South Manchuria, Eastern Inner Mongolia, Shantung and Fokien are concerned. Whether it will be left in any measure ajar so that those who do not possess the Japanese passport may enter depends upon the interpretation given to the Most Favored Nation Clause of the treaties. By this clause any general privileges or rights granted to the citizens or subjects of any one nation are automatically extended to the other treaty Powers."

TWENTY RESPOND TO CALL GIVEN BY EVANGELIST

Last night at the North Side Church of Christ a call was made by the evangelist at the close of his sermon for all who would identify themselves with the work in the North End of the city to so signify by coming forward. This was done by a score of persons—all adults.

The evangelist used a chart last night to aid in elucidating his subject. On this chart were five circles representing the possible conditions of man's destiny. The first circle represents the Garden of Eden—the starting place of the human race; (b) the second, the world in which man found himself after he had lost Eden; (c) the third, the church of Christ—composed of all obedient believers in Christ, the world over; (d) the fourth, the region of the lost; (e) and the fifth, the kingdom of heaven.

The speaker said that the tragedy of Eden was a tragedy of the human race; that every individual except one, since Adam's time had himself experienced it; for so soon as the child reaches the age of personal responsibility and deliberately and willfully chooses to do the wrong instead of the right he falls from the state of sinlessness in which he was, and Eden is again re-enacted. There is, therefore, no way back to innocence except through the blood of Jesus Christ. "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission." But a person may by backsliding lose heaven. He may forfeit his inheritance as a child and find his eternal home with the spiritual failures of the ages.

The necessity of regeneration and the second birth were strikingly brought out by several printed illustrations from actual life. The sawmill, the physician's task, the polluted well were all brought into requisition to show, (1) the necessity of having a new stick of timber free

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these organs in good working order, the system remains in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes old, weak, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as any medicine for cleansing the blood and skin. It is called Santal tablets. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and is a pleasant, quick, and safe remedy for the removal of all skin diseases. It is a most sensible treatment for complexion diseases of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

"They say that the advent of the 'santal tablet' as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, and a quick and safe remedy. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and is a pleasant, quick, and safe remedy for the removal of all skin diseases. It is a most sensible treatment for complexion diseases of the character mentioned."

AMERICAN THROWN INTO CELL WITH FIVE MURDERERS

New York, Sept. 17.—Dr. H. C. Leineweber, who is with the music division of the Congressional Library at Washington, accompanied by his wife and child, arrived today on the Russian steamer Kursk, from Archangel and told of being arrested by Russian police at Dwinsk, stripped and thrown into a cell with five murderers.

Last November he and his brother-in-law crossed the Dvina river to Dwinsk, to buy supplies. The same evening, Dr. Leineweber, said the chief of police and ten officers, entered their room stripped them, took away all papers and put Dr. Leineweber and his brother-in-law in a small cell with five murderers. Forty-eight hours later the Grodno police obtained their release.

COAL OPERATORS MAKE FIGHT FOR VERY EXISTENCE

Charleston, W. V., Sept. 17.—Declaring that they are fighting for their very existence, coal operators throughout West Virginia are perfecting their organizations to carry before the interstate commerce commission a protest against the proposed increase of 15 cents a ton in freight rates on shipments of West Virginia coal to the north and west. Ernest Heasley, secretary of the Kanawha Coal shippers association last night called a meeting of the organization to be held in this city today. He said that the very life of the industry was at stake. The Split and Gas coal association in a statement to the public said that the proposed increase would close every mine in the state, thousands of miners would be thrown into idleness and commercial interests in every mining community would suffer disaster.

AMERICAN MADE LIEUTENANT IN BELGIAN ARMY.

New York, Sept. 17.—Friends of Francis T. Colby, formerly a New York lawyer received word today that he has just been appointed a lieutenant in the Belgian army after having been cited in the orders of the day for bravery under fire. For the last ten months, Mr. Colby has served as a leader of a motor ambulance squad attached to the Belgian army. Lieutenant Colby is a son of Rear Admiral Harrison Gray Otis Colby, of the United States navy, retired, of Boston. He is a Harvard man, was formerly an officer in squadron A. of the New York National guard and is known as a big game hunter in Alaska and Africa.

BULGARIANS WILL ISSUE AN APPEAL

Paris, Sept. 17.—A dispatch of the Balkan agency from Bucharest, says that leaders of all the opposition parties in Bulgaria have held a meeting at which it was decided to publish an appeal to the country explaining the international political situation as affecting the nation. The appeal will be made on the ground that under present circumstances, the attitude taken by the government is perilous.

KICKED SKUNK AND CHOIR QUIT WORK PROMPTLY

Cambridge, Sept. 17.—A skunk strolled into the First Presbyterian church last evening while choir practice was in progress. Thomas Lloyd, a prominent merchant, kicked the animal. This broke up the meeting and the church auditorium is now in the hands of renovators.

WASHINGTON IN LEAD OF WORLD AS WOMAN'S CITY; LIFE THERE GIVES SEX UNEQUALLED CHANCES OF WORK AND ADVANCEMENT

Washington is pre-eminently a woman's city. In no other city in the world are such opportunities offered for work and advancement. Some of the most famous women of the capital are Mrs. Julia C. Lathrop, head of the U. S. children's bureau, and her able assistant, Mrs. Max West; Mrs. Janet Richards, noted lecturer; Mrs. Eliphalet Andrews, the artist and suffrage leader; and Mollie Elliot Seawell and Mrs. Martha Gielow, noted authors.

WOMEN OF OHIO.

Women Everywhere Endorse this "Favorite"

Cambridge, Ohio.—"I used 'Favorite Prescription' and found it an ideal woman's medicine. I was run down; dragging around, with lost ambition and strength. I used several bottles of this medicine and found it built me up nicely, and the permanent benefit was simply marvelous. I never have had to use it again. I give credit for my health to this sovereign remedy. I have given Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription to my daughter also."

Mrs. D. W. Nosselt, 132 South 9th St., Cambridge, Ohio.

Thousands of women who are now blessed with robust health cannot understand why thousands of other women continue to worry and suffer from ailments peculiar to women when they can obtain for a trifling sum Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which will surely and quickly banish all pain, distress and misery and restore the womanly functions to perfect health. Young mothers who preserve the charms of face and figure in spite of an increasing family and the care of growing children are always to be envied. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives the strength and health upon which happy motherhood depends. It practically does away with the pains of maternity. It enables the mother to nourish the infant life depending on her, and enjoy the hourly happiness of watching the development of a perfectly healthy child.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it ingeniously with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

What increase in power can I expect by using ether in gasoline and in what proportion is it used to gain the best of results?

The use of ether in fuel will give a slight increase in power, due to the more rapid propagation of the flame. One-half pint of ether for each ten gallons of gasoline is used for this purpose, but it is not recommended, as it is not economical. For getting easier starting a mixture of one-half commercial ether and one-half gasoline is carried in an oil can. This can be squirted into each priming cup for the initial explosion. The can must have a cover on the spout.

How will incorrect wiring affect my motor?

The effect of incorrect wiring on the motor depends on how the wires are misplaced. For instance, if the high tension cables were changed around so that no one of them went to the right plug it would be impossible to run the motor, although an occasional explosion might be obtained. If two or three of the high tension wires were interchanged, but one or more were left on the correct plugs, then the motor would run on the cylinders in which the latter were. Where a dual system is employed the wires of the battery system may sometimes be misplaced without interfering with the operation of the magneto and vice versa. As a rule, however, the changing of the wires will result in the whole ignition system becoming inoperative.

Has a long stroke motor any advantages over a short stroke motor?

Yes. The gas after ignition has greater chance to give up its energy to the piston. A greater volume of gas may be gotten into the cylinder without increasing the bore. This means more power for the same piston speed.

How can I take up the end play in a crank shaft without putting in new bearings?

It is best to replace the bearings when end play develops, but if this is not desirable the play can be removed by moving the thrust bearing to one side enough to compensate for the wear. The thrust is taken by the center main bearing, which is easily distinguished by having large flanges on each side. Remove the bolts holding the bearing to the crank case and file out the bolt holes enough to permit the bearing to be shifted. Then replace the bearing and tighten the bolts carefully.

Operating a motor with retarded spark will cause overheating by retarding and prolonging the combustion of the charge throughout the power of expansion stroke. Thus the cylinder walls are exposed to the action of the burning gases during the whole of the stroke instead of only during the time the piston is in the region of upper dead center, as is the case when the spark is properly set. If the spark is advanced to the point of most efficient operation the spark will occur some time before dead center and maximum pressure will be reached and the combustion nearly completed just after dead center has been passed. During this time, since the piston is near the top of the stroke, the amount of surface exposed to the exhaust gases is a minimum, and, furthermore, at this point in the stroke the compression is at its height, and combustion takes place with greatest rapidity. Contrast these conditions with what happens when the spark is greatly retarded. Let us assume that ignition occurs when the piston has half completed its stroke. At this point the compression is lower, and combustion is therefore slower and will probably not be completed until after the exhaust valve opens. The hot gases are in contact with nearly the whole of the cylinder wall surface for practically one-half revolution.

But this is not all. When the spark is retarded, as in the instance just mentioned, the motor does not develop full power, therefore for a given load on the motor the throttle must be opened wider and more gasoline and air must be supplied. The extra heat generated by the combustion of the increased amount of fuel thus adds its share to the already overheated motor.

My car is equipped with electric lights and would like to know if dry batteries would work the head and tail lights. If so, how many and about how many hours would they last?

Dry batteries are not suited for lighting the head and tail lights. This method would be entirely too expensive, as the number of batteries you would require would be great and their life short. Take your storage battery to a battery repair man that you are certain is an expert—if possible take it to a service station maintained by the maker of your battery—and have it examined. It may be that all it needs is an overhauling to make it as good as new. But even if you must buy a new battery it is better to do this than try to use dry cells.

In a gasoline engine, is any more power obtained from the explosion by having the spark plug directly in front of the piston rather than at one side in a boss or recess?

There are two theories relative to the location of the spark plug in a recess within the cylinder. One is that by having the spark plug in such a recess a spurt of flame enters the combustion space from the recess and as a result quickly ignites the charge. Another theory is that by having the spark plug directly in the center of the combustion space, or, that is, so that the spark plug points outward into the combustion space itself, the gas is quickly exploded because it gives the flame a chance to propagate itself in all directions. Practice favors a plug which merely has its points projecting into the combustion space.

Why do I have difficulty in starting on my magneto in damp weather?

The difficulty you have in starting in wet weather is probably due to moisture short circuiting some of the wires. Inspect the wires carefully for any points that might be affected by moisture and see that all the insulation is in good condition.

How will I burn the carbon out of the cylinders of my engine with oxygen-acetylene flames?

An oxygen-acetylene flame is never used for burning carbon out of cylinders. Acetylene is of no use for this purpose, but by employing oxygen alone a very satisfactory job can be done. The oxygen is used because it supports combustion five times as readily as air does, and therefore, once the carbon is ignited, it will burn rapidly, although it will not burn at all in air. In cleaning carbon from the cylinders in this manner the first thing to do is to remove the valve caps; then the cylinder is filled with oxygen. A small piece of burning waste is then dropped into the cylinder, and combustion immediately begins in a very vigorous manner. In fact, sometimes the carbon is consumed so rapidly that sparks will fly out of the valve openings, and for this reason it may be advisable to cover the front part of the car with damp cloths to catch these sparks. From this it must not be thought that there is any danger of setting the car afire, because the continued use of oxygen has demonstrated that there is no possibility of this occurring. If damp cloths are not used the most that will happen is a slight marring of the varnish by the sparks. The oxygen is supplied from a tank in which it is stored under very high pressure, and, as the pressure at the delivery nozzle of the outfit must be small, a reducing valve must be used to bring the pressure down to a reasonable amount. Therefore between the tank and the tube that carries the gas to the cylinders there is a reducing valve that automatically lowers the pressure. A gauge is generally fitted to the tank to indicate how much gas there is in it, because as the quantity becomes smaller the pressure drops.

I have a leather faced cone clutch and wish to put on a new one. I want to know the best kind of leather I can get for the purpose; also how to put it on. Would asbestos be better than leather?

Either leather or an asbestos fabric may be used with satisfaction. If you use leather you should obtain friction leather, which is made for this purpose.

In ordering the facing, the diameters of the two edges of the cone and the width of the cone should be given. If an asbestos fabric is used, care should be taken to obtain a piece that is made for the size of cone you have. Unlike leather, strips of this material to fit cannot be cut from a large piece of fabric. The thickness of the facing is important because too thick a facing will prevent the cone from properly entering the flywheel. One-quarter inch is an average value.

If you desire to buy a piece of leather and cut your own facing you should remove the old clutch leather and use it for a pattern. Before applying the leather it is well to soak it in a neat-foot oil to soften it. Care should be taken to cut the leather to the correct length. The best way is to first rivet one end and then wrap the leather around the cone in such a manner that it slips down over the smaller end of the cone. Then pull it tight and rivet the other end. Now push the leather up in place all around and it should be tight and unwarped.

The same advice applies to putting on an asbestos fabric, but there is less danger of the facing wrinkling.

Will you explain fully the method of fitting and lapping in new piston rings?

Place the cylinders on the bench and apply some ground glass and oil to the interior. The ground glass should be very fine. Then place the piston in the cylinder and work it in and out until the rings are well polished and fit tightly. Lapping is an operation which requires an experienced man. Furthermore, it is advisable to use an old cylinder wherever possible, as there is danger of wearing the new cylinder.

MEN RECEIVE MORE WAGES THAN WOMEN

FOR DOING SAME WORK ACCORDING TO OHIO'S STATISTICAL BUREAU'S REPORT

Disproportion Very Noticeable in Carefully Prepared Comparisons Just Made Public.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Sept. 17.—Fred C. Croxton, chief statistician of the State Industrial commission today made public figures showing rates of wages paid in Ohio industries, during 1914, based on reports of 14,776 employers of five or more persons, and covering 779,929 employees. The statistics are considered the most complete along this line ever gathered in Ohio.

Employees are divided into three classes, "wage earners," including many grades of work from laborers to skilled mechanics, "book-keepers, stenographers and office clerks," and "sales people," (not traveling), including a majority of clerks behind the counters. Each of these three general divisions are subsequently divided to show comparison of men's and women's wages in each. An idea of the completeness of the statistics may be gathered from the fact that the 623,796 men employees covered by the figures, represent one out of every three of the adult male population of the state, and that 145,698 women, or one of every 12 of the adult female population probably all the wage earners, are represented.

Difference in wages paid men and women is shown by these conclusions stated in Mr. Croxton's report: In the wage earners' division the percentage of men receiving less than $15 a week is 57, while for women it is 97. Forty-two percent of boy wage earners under 18 years of age are paid less than $6 a week, but 65 percent of girls under that age. In the division of book-keepers, stenographers and office clerks, which include a large proportion of women, men receiving less than $10 a week are 11 per cent; women receiving less than $10 a week, 45 per cent. In the salespeople division, in which there are more women than men represented, men receiving less than $15 a week are 36 per cent; women receiving less than $10 a week, 92 per cent.

There are 573,000 adult male "wage earners" represented in the report. Forty-five per cent of these are paid between $10 and $15 a week; 37 per cent between $15 and $25; 30 per cent less than $12; 76 per cent less than $18; 27 per cent between $12 and $15; one per cent more than $35; five per cent between $25 and $3; one per cent less than $8.

In the report 96,181 adult women "wage earners" are represented. Thirty-two per cent of these are paid between $5 and $7 a week; 31 per cent between $7 and $9; 17 per cent $10 or more; 19 per cent between $6 and $7; 7-10 of one per cent $18 or more; 3 per cent less than $4.

In the division of bookkeepers, stenographers and office clerks, of the 35,382 men represented, 23 per cent get between $18 and $25, 19 per cent between $15 and $18; 15 per cent between $25 and $35; 14 per cent between $12 and $15; 7 per cent more than $35. Of the 24,442 women in this division, 18 per cent get between $12 and $15, 18 per cent get between $10 and $12; 11 per cent get between $8 and $9; eleven per cent get between $15 and $18; 7 per cent get between $6 and $7, six per cent get $18 or more.

In the division of "salespeople" with 15,169 men recorded, 23 per cent get between $18 and $25, 20 per cent between $15 and $18; 17 per cent between $12 and $15; 13 per cent between $25 and $35; 7 per cent $35 or more. In the same division, of the 18,225 women recorded, 20 per cent get between $5 and $6; 12 per cent get between $8 and $9; 10 per cent get between $10 and $12; 7 per cent get between $9 and $10; 7 per cent get between $12 and $15.

Farming and mining are the two notable industries not included in this report.

The total wages paid by Ohio employers of five or more persons, in 1914 was $446,972,000. Manufacturing industries paid $329,000,000 of that amount.

There are ten cartridges in the magazine of the English LeeMetford rifle, and only five in that of the German Mauser.

KINDS OF RHEUMATISM

In popular language the word rheumatism is a term that covers a multitude of ills of which pain is the chief symptom. Articular rheumatism, inflammatory rheumatism and rheumatic fever are all names for the same disease. Muscular rheumatism affects the muscles and does not spread from one spot to another like inflammatory rheumatism. Lumbago is a form of muscular rheumatism.

Some people have rheumatism every winter especially those people who inherit a rheumatic tendency. They will continue to have recurring attacks until the blood is built up to a strength sufficient to overcome the rheumatic poison. External applications and drugs that simply relieve the pain are useless. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and really correct the trouble.

With the poisons in the blood there is a continual combat between the health forces and the disease. When the rheumatic poison prevails the blood gets thin rapidly. When the blood is made rich and red by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the poisons are destroyed and expelled.

The free booklet "Building Up the Blood" tells the whole story and the diet "What to Eat" will be sent on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 100 N. Y. Your own druggist.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and Be Relieved.

If a few years ago some one had said you could treat catarrh by breathing air charged with a healing balsam, the idea would have been ridiculed and it remained for that eminent investigator, R. T. Booth, to discover in Hyomei this wonderful method of treatment.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous results in treating catarrh and is today recognized by thousands of people as the only advertised remedy for catarrh that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hyomei is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei.

Breathe the air of Hyomei through the little inhaler drugists furnish with it for a few minutes four times a day and it will help the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects complete and lasting relief.

In Newark there are scores of well known people who have been relieved of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not help you T. J. Evans will return the money you paid for Hyomei. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to his faith in this remedy.

New Annapolis Chief

Captain Edward W. Eberle

Captain Edward W. Eberle has been chosen as superintendent of the Annapolis Academy to succeed Admiral Fullam, who goes to command the reserve naval fleet in Puget Sound. There have been charges of politics in connection with the change. It has been said in Washington that Admiral Fullam was transferred because of political enemies he had made during the recent investigation into thefts of examination papers by the cadets.

SHE WOULD GET DEATHLY SICK

But Mrs. Miner of Route 8 Found a Saving Friend in Nerv-Worth.

"Before taking Nerv-Worth my wife had doctored for 25 years and had bought all kinds of medicine for nervous disorders. For about a dozen times a day her stomach at times would empty itself of nothing but water. She would get deathly sick. There was a jerking in her sleep that made her very restless. Appetite very poor, stomach much out of order. While taking one bottle of Nerv-Worth there was practically no vomiting—she threw up but twice in all that time, three weeks. Now she sleeps better, eats almost anything and digests it. She is better in every way. Feels so rested in the morning. Both my wife and I recommend Nerv-Worth to our friends."

A Nerv-Worth endorsement recently received from J. W. Miner, who lives in Madison township, Route 8. Buy Nerv-Worth at the T. J. Evans drug store. $1 a bottle. Guaranteed.

Nothing Else.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which all the leading drug stores are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that the dealers run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell your druggist that you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and its continued use will start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

You can get Mi-o-na on this money back guarantee from practically every druggist in this vicinity, including T. J. Evans.
